Christmas gift!

A wet Christmas for pedestrians but a dry one for the merchants.

Our correspondents seem to have been washed out by the rain of the last few days.

Regular services at Christian Church to-morrow at 11 o'clock. All the members of the Church are requested to attend.

The Sunday-school and congregation of the Methodist Church will make their annual offering to Foreign Missions to-morrow.

The signal service promised us a cold wave yesterday as a Christmas gift. Perhaps we will get it in our stockings to-day.

Prof. Moritz Fischer offers his services to our citizens, in another column, as an instructor in German and French.

Mrs. D. G. Timmons offers one of the best farms in the Peak's Mill precinct for sale in this issue. See advertisement in another column.

Some of the boys will have a good time interviewing Tom and Jerry this morning, but later in the day when interviewed by Cale, Henry and Ike it will not be so pleasant.

The engine attached to the accommodation train which left here at 6 o'clock yesterday morning, was disabled this side of Bagdad and the train lay there for several hours.

LOST.—On the Georgetown Turnpike near Woodlake, a lady's large black and white shawl. The finder will be rewarded by leaving same at Mr. Ed. Power's, Ann street.

The children of the Christian Church Sunday-school were given a treat at the chapel last evening, and the Baptist Sunday-school had a similar entertainment at four o'clock yesterday afternoon. The children of the Presbyterian Mission School, in Taylorton, will also have a treat this afternoon.

It is expected that the room in the Government Building intended for the Post-office will be completed by the first of February so that Postmaster Rodman can move in on that day, as the year for which he rented the building occupied at present expires at that time. The brass fronts for the boxes are the only things likely to prevent it, as contractor Mitchell will have the room and the joiner's work ready.

Mr. Richard D. Wedge, representing the Boker, Smith & Co. Heating Company, of New York, has just completed the hot water heating apparatus in the Custom House, and returned home. The apparatus works and heats the building admirably, and we are satisfied Dick has done a good job. Quite a delegation of the men employed on the building, with whom Dick was very popular, escorted him to the train, and wished him a happy voyage home. If he will let us know in advance, should he ever come this way again, we will see that Johnny Meek has the Brass Band out to welcome him.

Personals.

Mr. Thomas Humphries, of Utica, New York, is visiting his father, Mr. T. F. Humphries, in this city.

Mr. Fred. Bagby expects to leave Monday for Kansas City with a view of locating.

Miss Fannie Bullock is spending the holidays with friends in Eminence.

Misses Fannie and Ada Gaines are home from Nicholasville to spend the holidays.

Mr. J. R. Williams and family went to Louisville yesterday afternoon to visit relatives.

Miss Nannie Browder will go to Louisville this afternoon to visit relatives.

Mrs. Alex. Grant left for Cincinnati yesterday afternoon to visit her daughter, Miss Belle, who is there under medical treatment.

Capt. Thos. G. Poore and wife and Miss Josie Moss left yesterday morning for Bowling Green to spend Christmas with relatives.

Mr. Jos. Robinson and wife, of this county, are visiting their daughter, Mrs. B. T. Farmer, in Lawrenceburg.

Col. Ed. C. Went, who for several years past has been voluntary observer for the Signal Service in this city, received the following very complimentary letter accepting his resignation tendered on the 5th inst:

SIGNAL OFFICE, WAR DEPARTMENT,
WASHINGTON CITY, DEC. 15, 1886.

Mr. E. C. Went, Frankfort, Ky:

SIR:—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your communication of the 5th instant, tendering your resignation as a voluntary observer of this Service, and in reply have to say that I regret very much that circumstances will prevent you from forwarding meteorological reports in future. Had I the instruments at my command it would give me great pleasure to place a complete set in your hands, but for some time I have had no instruments at my disposal for issue to voluntary observers. Your observations are considered among the most valuable on file at this office and it will be a serious loss, both to this office and to your community, to be deprived of them in future. I have sent you, this date, a supply of cards providing for the entry of maximum and minimum thermometer readings and rainfall. I hope that you will find it convenient to record the data mentioned and mail one card each month. I have also sent a few cards for reporting any special phenomenon of interest which may occur in your vicinity. To do this will require you to record but one observation daily. Your name will continue on the list of persons receiving the publications of the Signal Service.

Thanking you for your kind cooperation in the past, I am, very respectfully, your obedient servant,
A. W. GREELY,
Capt. 5th Cavalry, A. S. O. & Ass't,
Acting Chief Signal Officer, U. S. Army.

Mr. Charles Gayle, formerly of this city, son of the late John Gayle, died recently at his home in Henderson.

The children of the Southern Presbyterian Church were given an elegant supper on Thursday evening at the residence formerly occupied by Judge T. H. Hines, on the corner of Third and Shelby streets, by the ladies of the Church. After supper the little folks enjoyed themselves with games of various kinds.

The new Chapel of the Baptist Church, for Prayer-meeting and Sunday-school purposes, has been completed and will be occupied to-morrow morning. It is the gift of that noble mother in Israel, Mrs. P. Wingate.

As Frankfort will have a new post office, with postmen to deliver the mails, early in the new year, the street railroad company should get to work and secure subscriptions of stock sufficient to build one or more lines.

How many there are who were with us this time last year, who are not now. Let us each one bear this in mind and remember that we may not be here this time next year, and let it temper our enjoyment with gratefulness for mercies past and hopes for those to come.

Let all those who have plenty and to spare, this happy Christmas day, remember that there are in this community numbers of those who are suffering from cold and hunger, and let them be the almoners of the Almighty. Giving to the poor—lending to the Lord.

Mr. Dan. Swigert's fine horse, King Craft, which he recently purchased for $10,000 in England, died on board ship on the way over.

We are under obligations to Mr. Robert McMillan, of this county, for some of the finest salsify we have ever seen. The roots average twelve inches in length and five inches in circumference.

The tin horn, with a small boy attached to the small end, is not so numerous on the street as is usual at this season.

Editor Roundabout:

The trouble which has existed in the congregation of the First Colored Baptist Church in this city, for the past year, was amicably settled on Thursday night by a committee from the First White Baptist Church, composed of Col. Thos. Rodman, Rev. G. F. Bagby and J. M. Wakefield, and Henry Samuel and John H. Thomas, of the First Independent Baptist Church. Hon. E. H. Taylor, Jr., and Judge W. H. Sneed were also present and aided in the settlement with good counsel. At the close of the conference Messrs. Rodman, Taylor and Wakefield contributed five dollars each towards paying off the debt of the Church.

MERRITT MADISON.

Attention K. of H.

All members are requested to be present next Tuesday evening, as it is the annual election night for officers for the following year.

The world moves. It probably finds it cheaper to move than to pay rent.—Boston Transcript.

A Chicago man has applied for a patent for a bathtub. He seems to think it a new idea.—Omaha World.

It is said that a McCook man has a nose so red that when he opens his eyes slowly in the morning he imagines he sees the sun rising.—Omaha Herald.

If people who mean to begin to read should read the advice to readers about reading they wouldn't have time to read anything else.—Somerville Journal.

Isn't it curious that the men who are always telling how many thousand dollars can be saved by not smoking are, in nine cases out of ten, poor as church mice.—Burlington Free Press.

A woman in Newaygo county, this state, picked and sold enough blackberries this fall to buy her husband a fiddle and shotgun. She is only a sample of what we have left.—Detroit Free Press.

In the police court, the other day, a flushed female excitedly emerging from the door: "There, she told Judge Pyper I was a common street walker. I said I'd make her prove it, and, by glory, I did. (Exit triumphantly.)"—Salt Lake Herald.

"Worthington made a convincing speech," said one young man to another. "Why do you think so?" "Well, when I went to hear him I had almost made up my mind to vote against him. When I came out I was certain of it."—Peoria Transcript.

A man in West Virginia reports having seen a snake forty feet long in the act of swallowing a sheep. It is believed that about two more drinks of the stuff would have enabled him to see a sheep forty feet long in the act of swallowing a snake.—Norristown Herald.

The meanest church organist lives in Philadelphia. He is all bent with age, and the other day, at the wedding of an antique Philadelphia belle, whom he knew many years before, he astonished everybody by playing a fantasia on the air, "When You and I Were Young."—Boston Traveller.

"Is any one waiting on you?" inquired the polite salesman of a Westville maiden. "Well, I can't hardly tell," she blushing replied. "Sometimes I think there is, and then again I ain't certain, but Will's so sort of funny, you know," and then she blushed again and asked to look at some lace collars.—New Haven News.

In Potter county, Pa., a slim youth was being married a few days ago to a stout, healthy country girl. The male was performed, wore frills in his shirt, had his hair curled, and presented such a feminine appearance that the clergyman said: "I don't want to make any mistake about this business, so which of you is the bride, anyhow?"—Boston Globe.
